

Synopsis

A snapshot of the chapter

Two apostles, Peter and John, went to the temple at the hour of prayer and met a beggar, a lame man, at the Gate Beautiful. When he asked for alms, Peter told him that he had no money but he would give him a gift in the name of Jesus. With that, he healed him and the man walked and praised God. This caused all the people to be amazed and gave Peter the opportunity to preach the gospel. We sometimes call this the second gospel sermon but this event may have been some time after Pentecost. The sermon again spoke of Jesus' resurrection and the audience's role in crucifying Him. He again told them to "repent" and said that Moses and all the prophets had told them that a new "Prophet" would come and should be heard.
